

A Learner Entitlement for young people in Eastleigh Consortium

Eastleigh Consortium is an established, evolving group in Hampshire comprising of 12 specialist schools and 2 Beacon status colleges. The Consortium supports 11,505 (ages 11 to 16) and 3501 (ages 16 to 19) learners.

The Eastleigh Consortium seeks to maximise your participation, achievement and progression in learning, training and employment.

This learner entitlement sets out the education and training opportunities that you can expect within the Eastleigh Consortium.

Consortium partners are committed to developing effective systems and support to make this entitlement a reality. All partners will prioritise your needs and requirements above institutional funding or planning boundaries.

This entitlement is designed to compliment the aims and objectives of your school or college.

The Consortium seeks to further develop a curriculum entitlement, including vocational learning that is to be accessible to all learners.

Learner Entitlement

To give you opportunities within the Consortium to reach your potential and give you greater choice of what and how you learn.

All Consortium learners can expect:

- All institutions to collaborate for the benefit of the individual learner
- High quality learning and greater variety of opportunity to meet the individual needs and aspirations of learners
- Impartial and informed advice and guidance to enable decisions to be made to meet their identified needs of learning and training pathways

- To have the opportunity to follow programs of study, which equip learners with the knowledge and skills they need for further learning and employment
- Organised routes into further and higher education, employment and training
- An opportunity to take responsibility for their own learning and prepare for an active role in society
- Access to high quality vocational programmes and work-related learning in an appropriate setting

- The chance to fulfil their potential in a healthy, safe and enjoyable way
- Staff who have the professional skills and expertise necessary to deliver this entitlement
- To be consulted on their views on the development and review of this entitlement statement
- To have access to specialist resources and opportunities available across the Consortium
- A healthy and safe learning environment
- To experience a varied range of teaching and learning styles supported by open access to ICT
- Regular feedback and written reports
- Include young people in the planning and development of opportunities through an Individual Learning Plan (ILP)

This is your entitlement and is based upon equality of opportunity to enable you to reach your full potential.
